General Local News.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28, 1877.

Double Death.

On Tuesday last week Mr. Thomas Leandrum, died at his home near Calhoun, Meigs county, Ky., after a long illness. His wife, Mrs. Ventres, who was stopping for the time with Mrs. Austin, another sister, living in the neighborhood, dropped dead on hearing of her brother's death. She had been troubled for some time with what was supposed to be cancer in the stomach. She had formerly lived in Grayson county. Mr. Leandrum was a man widely known and very highly respected and beloved by everybody. His death was caused by something like a cold or cough.

Mr. W. H. Edson has located in Hartford, and is engaged in repairing watches, clocks and jewelry. He is located under the Hartford office in the grocery store of W. C. Morton. See his advertisement and hand bills, for full particulars.

You Must Pay Me!

I have given my creditors notice time and again that I need the amounts due me from them. I now give them the last notice, which they had better heed, or an officer of the law will visit them. I mean what I say! All those who do not pay the before the 20th of December, will have their accounts, notes, &c., sent on promptly that day. I am compelled to do this, and not wishing to run anyone to unnecessary cost, I give you this urgent notice. If it is any accommodation to sell to my creditors on thirty-days, I will do so, but thirty days must be construed to mean thirty days, not three, six or twelve months. Respectfully,
Z. WAYNE GRIFIN.

Life Size.

In our last trip through Ohio county we have failed to meet many who are anxious to have work done cheaper than before. We advise all such to leave their old ambrotypes, pictures, &c., at J. W. Ford's drug store, Hartford, Ky. He is our agent, and will have pictures enlarged and copying done on short notice, and guarantee satisfaction.

W. M. THURMAN,
S. R. HOLTSCLAW.
Pictures framed to order at Ford's.

Amazing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used ROSCHER'S GERMANY SYRUP to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and no one can use it without feeling that it is the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed to cure. Such a medicine as the GERMANY SYRUP cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents.

Lost Mare.

Dark bay or brown mare, eight or nine years old, about fifteen hands high, paces well, in good order, and has a roan mane. Any information leading to her recovery will be cheerfully received and liberally paid for.
W. P. FORKMAN,
Hartford, Ky.

We will send the Saturday Evening Post and Hartford Herald, for one year, on receipt of $2.50. To those who are already subscribers to the Herald, we will send the Post on receipt of $1.50. Address,

Editor Herald, Hartford, Ky.

TO REMEMBER.

All my best and brightest fancies
You have captured long,
And no Jeanie, Jane, or Nancy's
Will I ever wed.

I loved a prairie Minnie once,
And a Mattie, pretty,
But then I've learned I was a dunc,
Since leaving Mattie.

Now, I would like to wiser grow,
And brighter chaplets wear—
All for your sweet sake, you know—
Not at all for mine.

But I must seek the self-same fountain,
Where your wisdom came,
Or clamber up the Poet's mountain,
For the Poet's fame.

And, at the great empyrean spring,
I must have a quail,
When, like a mocking bird you sing,
And at critics laugh.

This done, I'll wisely advertise
A free man's heart to let,
Though ever will ever take the prize,
I'm not a winsome bet.

But Cupid must not interfere
With his pretty trophy,
No, he tries in vain to stir
With these heavy rides.

Set not this warning o'er aside,
With better, once to first;
For though my right may be denied,
Some one I'll surely hurt.

Who is this dancin' Minnie,
Singing out a tawdry ditty,
Is she smart, and is she pretty?
Hump! she's heavy and she's pious!

Whom does she love, this Minnie,
With eyes so black, and hair so yellow?
Is it some starry, gay young fellow?
No, he's old and tall and thin!

Is she young and sweet, this Minnie,
With tempting hands and merry heart?
She says she's sweet—I say she's tart,
And wrinkles in her skin.

Does she dress in taste, this Minnie,
And is her wardrobe worth a maid?
No, she tries in vain to stir
With these heavy rides.

Is she true or false, this Minnie,
With coal black eyes and locks so fair?
With the eyes so black, 'tis false blonde hair,
She's not a saint, but a snare!

Has she dainty feet, this Minnie,
And does she wear a dainty boot?
Encased in number six's her feet—
Now, lad, come out to dinner.

Born to the wife of I. R. Becker, Nov. 20th, a daughter, weight, ten and a half pounds.

For Sale—A No. 1 Arizona Cooking stove. A. R. MURKEL.

Mr. Josiah Veech, an old citizen and ex-Sheriff of Daviess county, died of pneumonia on Tuesday afternoon last week.

Mr. E. H. Cooper, deputy sheriff for the Fordville country, has been quite sick for a month or more and fears are entertained that he will never entirely recover. He has made a good recovery, and it will be a misfortune to the people as well as himself, if his illness returns him to resign.

What's the difference between General Jackson at the battle of New Orleans and some of the girls of the present day? Not much, for he used cotton breast-works you know.

The Democrat, published by John H. Shields, Clinton, Ky., is a seven column four-page weekly, and is full of interesting reading matter. It has a column devoted to temperance reform edited by W. R. Bradley and Willis White. It is with pleasure we place it on our exchange list.

The office of the Grayson Journal will shortly be moved to Brandenburg, Meigs county, where its editor, F. H. Thurman, proposes to start a new paper. He is an energetic man and a good editor, and we trust in this undertaking he will receive the Meigs of patronage due him.

We have recently added to our exchange list several new and valuable papers. Among the number is the Republican, published at Madisonville, Ky. It is as its name indicates, Republican, politically, and is a new, lively paper. John B. Young, proprietor. May success attend you, Young man.

Why, Miss Brown, do you ask your beau to purchase clothes from Julius Winter & Co., S. E. corner, Third and Market sts., Louisville, Ky.? Because it affords me pleasure to favor a house which has such a superb stock of goods, and employ the most polite and handsomest salesmen.

The partners composing the firm of Julius Winter & Co., S. E. cor. Third and Market sts., Louisville, Ky., never miss represent the quality of their goods, nor allow a bad fitting garment to leave their establishment and insult that their employees do the same.

Mr. Joseph W. Ross, living near Rose's' ripple, in Centerville town, died last Thursday, of typhoid pneumonia. He was a sober, quiet, honorable citizen, and will be sadly missed by his family, friends and neighbors.

There seems to be a lot of horse thieves infesting this community. Mr. W. P. Foreman has lost one recently. One night during the present protracted meeting, Rev. Mr. Humphrey and a young man with him, hitched their horses back of our office, one night last week, and after a time, the young man went to see if they were standing, and found two negro men astride them, just in the act of riding them off. They slid off, and skedaddled in a hurry.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church, in this place is still in progress. Bro. Cook has secured more assistance since our last issue, viz: Rev. L. B. Davidson, of Owensboro, who reached here last week, and Rev. V. P. Thomas, who came here Monday night. There have been no conversions as yet, but several have indicated an interest in the prayers of the church people, and one has been at the anxious seat for several days past. Bro. Cook, the minister in charge of this circuit, as well as the ministers assisting, seem not to be discouraged, and are determined to hold on faithfully, confident of a grand revival eventually.

A Paper for Young People.

The Youth's Companion, of Boston, employs the same writers as the best English and American magazines, and no other publication for the family furnishes so much entertainment and instruction of a superior order for so low a price. Among its contributors are Dinah Mulock Craik, Miss Yonge, J. T. Tronbridge, Louisa M. Alcott, Henry W. Longfellow, Wm. Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, and nearly fifty of the best story writers. For judicious editing, selection and popular contributors, and, sprightly, entertaining reading, it has no superior among the youth's publications.

Mr. W. H. Edson, at W. C. Morton's grocery store, in Hartford, is now prepared to do any kind of repairing needed in watches, clocks and jewelry. Orders solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

Mr. B. C. Fields, announces to the people of Hartford that he has located here in the carpentering business, and will do all work in that line cheap in the first class manner. 47-61

Circuit Court adjourned last Monday night, after a session of thirteen days. Quite a large amount of litigation was settled, much of it too, that had been on the docket for a long time.

We have two large turnips in our office, brought to us by Mr. J. R. Canan, and which grew upon the lands of Mrs. America Pittsburgh, near Sulphur Springs. One weighs six and a half pounds, and the other seven and a half pounds. They grew on land that has been in constant cultivation for more than forty years.

The recent protracted meeting at South Carrollton, conducted by Rev. J. M. Peay and Dr. W. P. Bennett, of the Baptist church, was quite a successful revival. Over eighty professions, sixty-two accessions to the church, fifty-one baptisms and six approved for baptism were the result.

We notice with pleasure the town authorities are making substantial side walks of oak plank, extending through the town even to the outskirts. This is an improvement very necessary, and reflects credit upon the trustees.

Some one took my hat, size, No. 7, with a cord instead of band around it, and the letters "qui vive" in gilt were pasted in the crown. The one left intact is a size 6 1/2, with band and cord around it. The exchange was made last Saturday, somewhere in Hartford. The person having my hat will please call and make the exchange.
JOHN P. BARRETT.

Administrators Notice.

C. W. STEVENS,
Administrator.

Mrs. M. McIntyre brought with her, on her return from Washington county, a nice lot of beautiful petticoated shells, gathered on a very high prominence. The question is: How did they get there? They probably lodged there during the flood. We have quite a number of the specimens on exhibition in the Herald office, and to those who never have, they are worth seeing.

Hubbard's Digest.

Hogs Strayed.

About the first of October twelve Berkshire hogs (black) marked smooth crops in the right ear and under slope in the left, with the exception of one which had only a slit in right ear. I will pay five dollars reward for the return of the hogs, or any information that will enable me to recover them.

White Run News.

Editor Herald:
W. T. McSherry's wife was brought to this neighborhood today, a corpse, to be buried by the side of her father, and the majority of the men here were afraid to help dig the grave, because John Parks, who died with smallpox, was buried in the same grave yard several years ago.
CANDY STICK.

On last Saturday night there was a splendid candy stew at Mr. Isaac Bratcher's. A great deal of candy eaten and much merriment wasted.

To Prevent and Cure Coughs and Colds.

A reliable remedy is necessary in every household. Park's's Ginger Tonic is just the medicine needed. It radically cures coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, and even consumption, if used in time, by its powerful specific action on the stomach, kidneys, skin, liver, and mucous surface of the throat and lungs. In this natural way it cleanses the waste matters from the blood, builds up the system, fortifies the system against further attacks, and permanently allays inflammations of the throat, lungs, and other organs. It is a powerful invigorant, and affords just the help that the aged, the feeble, and the convalescent require, because it insures perfect digestion and enjoyment of the food, enriches the blood, and arouses the dormant energies of the debilitated organs. It cures dyspepsia with its varied symptoms of headache, wakefulness, sour stomach, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, liver complaint, palpitation of the heart, etc., and while it never intoxicates nor creates any desire for stimulants, it diffuses warmth and vigor through the system, renews the appetite, soothes the nerves, banishes melancholy, and gives strength and elasticity to the worn out frame. Buy a $1.00 bottle from your druggist, Z. Wayne Griffin, Hartford, Ky., and test its extraordinary merits.
